

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT BREAKFASTS

“Exploring Green Careers”

The upcoming Professional Development Breakfast will focus on Green Careers and the opportunity available for young people in training, education and employment in this growing sector of sustainability.

Speakers:

Tim Jarvis (extended bio here)

combines a love of adventure with a passion for environmental issues - a passion demonstrated through his work as an environmental scientist, public speaker and explorer of many of the planet's remotest places. As an environmental scientist with Masters in both Environmental Science and Environmental Law, he has undertaken unsupported expeditions to both polar regions and many of the world's deserts, mountains and rainforests, including a record-breaking journey to the South Pole. Tim's environmental work is focused on sustainable development in countries including India, Sri Lanka, Papua New Guinea and the Phillipines.

Genevieve Haskett – General Manager at TAFE SA

Genevieve Haskett has worked as an educator for over twenty years. She has a passion for and commitment to social justice issues and has been associated with migrant and youth education throughout her professional career. Genevieve is the lead General Manager for Sustainability for TAFE SA. She also holds the lead position for Vocational Preparation, Equity and Learner Engagement. Her involvement in sustainability issues began when she instigated the development of the TAFE SA Sustainability Strategy and Action Plan. She now chairs the Sustainability Lead Reference Group for TAFE SA.

Tristan Bryant – National Green Jobs Corp Program Manager at Heta Inc

Tristan Bryant is the Job Search Coordinator for the National Green Jobs Corp program run by Heta Incorporated. His role has him working closely with all the young people that progress through the program, developing strong relationships and gaining a good understanding of their specific skills, strengths, and abilities. The main focus of Tristan's role is to ensure that participants are supported at the completion of the program to find employment and enter a career. He works with the young people to help gain a broad range of skills such as resume building, interview techniques and job searching.
